

David Redinha Resume

Born 7 June 1979 in Huambo (Angola), lived in Angola (Luanda) until 9 years old when moved to Macau (South China) till 22 years old then moving to Brighton (England) and living in Brighton for the past 9 years.

I am a creative individual especially in terms of audio (music, sounds and vocals) and have been creating various styles of music for many years. Play various different music instruments including vocals. There is this intuition in me towards music and its understanding by soul. Since I was living in Macau, a small peninsula in South of China, I didn't have much opportunity for audio media jobs, I decided to come live in Brighton where there's a lot of artistic movement.

I have a BA degree in Music Composition and Technology at Northbrook College and am seeking opportunity to expand my musical knowledge, abilities and career. I am very good with computers in various areas: software and Hardware repairing and Music creation and production. I am aiming to find opportunities to use my creativity to: composer music for myself and for media: film, animation, documentaries, performances and video games.

My experience with sound and music comes from experimenting, playing and creating original music, organizing events for artists, recording bands in studio, working with live bands, composing for film and composing for my self.

My showreel and work can be found on my official website: www.davidredinha.com
